AREA: Licensure & Regulation

Student Location for Licensure & Certification Programs

I. POLICY

A. Lamar University (LU) complies with federal code 34 CFR § 600.43 and § 668.435 and state code Texas Education Code \(TEC\) § 101.001.

- B. Student Location. The state in which a student is physically located while enrolled and taking courses at LU. Student location may change during a student's enrollment at LU. (Note: The student location is not identical to the term student residence/permanent address. A student's residence/permanent address may be in a state different from the one in which this student is physically living or located during a given semester.)

IV. PROCEDURES

A. Notices prior to enrollment.

- On its Distance Learning web page, LU informs prospective students that a program that leads to licensure or certification in Texas may not be recognized for licensure or certification in other states.
- Students accepted to an LU program that leads to licensure or certification will be required to sign and return a form on which they (students) indicate they intend to pursue licensure or certification.
