The Texas State University System

NEWSLETTER #3

March 26, 2021

x Senator Robert Nichols was named Profiles in Midstream Honoree

The Center for Midstream Management and Science has named Senator Robert Nichols a /Profiles in Midstream _honoree. The QMMS honors those who are doing good work for the midstream industry and Nichols is recognized as one of the founders of the Center.

^ /išstrategic thinking of leaders like Senator Nichols who enable us in our effort to build the Midstream Center into a problem-solving member of the midstream industry, dearing house and developer of innovative midstream technologies, and ultimately a thought leader in the midstream • š } SeidUThomas Kalb, director of the CMMS ^t are

^] v P[ofilesin Midstreamhonoree.rioree represents District 3, including 19 counties covering the greater part of East Texas and Montgomery County. Prior to his election as a Texas state senator, he served as Texas transportation commissioner for eight years.

2007 and

x Grace Belaire joins Midstream Center as Program Coordinator

x Midstream Center hosts webinar on newly developed Rapid DNA field testing for corrosion causing microbes in midstream systems

This webinar, held March 16th, was the first in a New and Emerging Technology 2021 Series sponsored by the Midstream Center. Distinguished speakers included:

John Mork CEO EnerG-ID Solutions

Dirk van Oostendorp Director, Enngineering & Technical Services CorrPro-Aegion x Enterprise Products Training Center hosts Midstream Center Leadership

Enterprise Products recently hosted Thomas Kalb, Director of the Midstream Center, and Dr. Helen Lou, Associate Director t

Center for Midstream Management & Science Thomas J Kalb, Director Lamar University PO Box 10008 Beaumont, Texas 77710 midtreamcenter@lamar.edu